

Islamic law of Divorce

Title: Islamic law of Divorce Author: MS Omar Pages: 62 Published : 1983

Rating: Not Rated Yet

Ask a question about this product

Description

Testimonial By: Molana Abdul Rahman Ansari

The major and significant portions of the text were read to me by the author. I was pleasantly surprised to find such a well- researched and authentic book. In the light of the scope and purpose of the work, I am convinced that very little could be said or added to the subject. In my view, the author has set out the subject matter clearly and of the times, and as far as concisely. The work is a need I am aware the first published work on the subject in South Africa. For this reason I congratulate the author on his fine achievement and pray that many more such works flow from his pen from time to time. The authorities and references quoted are completely authentic - whether Quran, Hadith or Legal Treatises.

Maulana Abdul Rehman Ansari , Jamiatul Ulama Natal, South Africa

About the Author

Mr MS Omar who has considerable experience and legal skills, has dealt with a wide variety of complex legal cases. He has the unique distinction of dealing with both chamber work and Litigation. He has appeared regularly in the High Courts. He successfully argued the landmark case Amod v Multilateral Motor Vehicle Accidents Fund (1999) in the Constitutional Court and The Supreme Court Of Appeal. This case which developed the Common Law by recognizing a duty of support flowing from an Islamic marriage has been used as a precedent and applied in a number of subsequent cases

In his capacity as a Shariah expert, Mr MS Omar has drafted a number of Shariah compliant products and has expressed diverse Shariah opinions. He also sits on various Shariah boards including Al Baraka Bank South Africa, The Old Mutual Al Baraka Equity Fund, Maldives Islamic Bank. In addition, he has given advice to and drafted documents for various financial institutions and conventional banks on Islamic Financial instruments, products, and related matters.

Mr MS Omar was also the primary drafter of the Muslim Marriages Bill which was approved by the South African Law Reform Commission and submitted to the Ministry Of Justice in 2003.

 Click to Download

Reviews

There are yet no reviews for this product.